Wilder's Patent SALAMANDER SAFES

SECURED AGAINST GUNPOWDER
—AND—
Warranted not to Injure Books or Papers by Dampness!

THESE are the only Safes with [illegible] PATENT that have in every instance preserved their contents when exposed to large fires, like the burning of the Tribune printing office in New York city and many others, too numerous to mention.
The above Safes are manufactured and for sale by JOHN E WILDER, Boston, and for sale in Bangor at the manufacturer's prices by FISKE & DALE.

The following letter from the Superintendent of the Maine Telegraph Company shows the superiority of JOHN E WILDER'S Safe over all others.—
Bangor Oct 24 1849
John E Wilder Esq—Dear Sir—The Safe I purchased of you was exposed to a great degree of heat at the burning of the Telegraph Office in this city. It was in the fire six hours. The books and papers were uninjured, and the damage to the Safe very slight, although it fell from the second story to the basement of the building. The little repairs necessary to the Safe have been made, and we shall [illegible] to retain it. It is a Bangor institution.
Respectfully yours

KITCHEN & HENDERSON'S
HAIR PRESERVATIVE.
THIS article has been before the public nearly five years and the preparation is prepared to say that for REMOVING DANDRUFF from the scalp, RESTORING HAIR WHERE FALLEN OFF TEMPORARILY and giving it a BEAUTIFUL SOFTNESS AND GLOSS CANNOT BE EXCELLED. The basis of this Preservative is a pure vegetable Oil extracted from a plant found growing luxuriantly in the Western States and which possesses, in a remarkable degree, the essential properties requisite for REPRODUCING AND BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR by acting upon and reviving its glands or roots—Those who faithfully apply this Preservative will be surprised at finding how silk like and glossy it renders the Hair while it clears the scalp of scurf or dandruff and affords the most agreeable sensations. It has already been extensively used and in every instance has given perfect satisfaction.
REASONS FOR USING THIS PRESERVATIVE.
1 It is a very pretty CLEAN article, and has an agreeable perfume.
2 It is put up in a very convenient form and at a very reasonable price.
3 Acting as a stimulant it affords relief to the Head ache.
4 It gives to hard brashy Hair a desirable moisture and softness.
5 It promptly arrests the falling off of the Hair where that evil has commenced, and promotes the growth of new Hair. In fine, it does all for the Hair that any preparation for restoring and improving this ornament of the head can possibly do.

THE Great American Remedy
FOR Colds Coughs, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, and all diseases of the Chest and Lungs has now been so long before the public and its reputation so well established both from recommendations of Physicians and from the invariable testimony of its infallible virtues by all who have used it that its sale has become immensely large and it must very soon supersede the use of every other article issued for the same and kindred complaints. As a family medicine, it can never be outdone. In double the usual dose it almost invariably removes the child in the first stages of croup and relieves and quiets it immediately. For quite a number of years it has been the favorite and universal remedy in all the cases named of one of the most celebrated and skillful Physicians.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
WITH U S PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON
No. 22 State Street, Boston
IN 1840 the subscriber was appointed by the Commissioner of Patents Agent of the U S Patent Office in accordance with the 10th Sec of Act of 37.
Having relinquished the Agency for the transmission of Models and applied a more expeditious mode of sending them to the Patent Office whereby a Patent may be procured about six weeks earlier he continues to forward them free of expense—to prepare Caveats Specifications Assignments and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents and to render advice on legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries.
By application at this office inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. They also have the advantage of verbal explaining their inventions and of consulting in respect to the matters in general of paramount importance in order to obtain correct specifications and claims. The experience of sixteen years practice an extensive collection of rare works decisions on mechanical objects the Patent Laws and patents of different countries collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established, together with accounts here kept of inventions patented at Washington enable the subscriber to afford to inventors desired services of procuring patents, assistance and information which in other respects might be difficult of attainment.
R H EDDY Solicitor of Patents

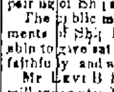

WASHINGTON, JULY 21, 1849.—During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents R H EDDY Esq of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few if any persons acting in that capacity who had so much business before the Patent Office and there were none who conducted it with more skill fidelity and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

MISCELLANEOUS
[From the National Era.]
The Lost Child on the Prairie.
BY MARY IRVING
(Concluded.)

How many minutes had thus passed she knew not but a hand on the latch string startled her to her feet in an instant. It was the wife of her nearest neighbor who came in with a checked gray and white blanket shawl folded around her head and shoulders.

'Dear me Miss Warn, ain't you dreadful lonesome, like! Mr Warn he came a thunderin' up to our steps and I says to Humphrey' says I, there's somebody took sick on a sudden and they've sent for me. I didn't no more'n rolled the words off my tongue afore John bursted the door in! and says he Humphrey, will you do a neighbor a kind turn! My child is astray on the prairie! Sorry coots we would ha' been if we hadn't helped a neighbor in time o' trouble! Humphrey fetched up old Sorrel in a twinkle while John drove ahead to Warner's. Says I to Humphrey, it's distracted like Mary Warn will be, poor, lone body, takin' on over her baby, and it being all she had, and the beautifullest creetur', too, that ever'—

'Oh don't Mrs Humphrey' exclaimed Mary, breaking for the first time the tangled string of her well meaning visiter's would be consolations.

'There! well I didn't mean to rake up your feelin's, dear, but all it says I, to Humphrey, I'll slip on my shawl in a jiffy, and trot across to Mary a' She oughtn't to be alone this while, and I'll cheer her up to hoping a bit, may be.'

Some less garrulous comforter would have been more congenial to Mary, in her hour of silent sorrow. But she was grateful for the good will that prompted her neighbor's visit; and she knew that it is not always good for the grief stricken heart to be alone. So she strove to smile thankfully, and even to converse with her chattering guest. Though every sound grated on her nervous ears, that were aching to catch the slightest echo of a foot-fall without.

The coals crumbled low on the hearth, and Mary hoped, till she saw the gleam. Like the tramp of a spirit, which her companion's low monotonous tones were ringing in her ears but she took no heed of her words, as she paced heavily across the boards, or by a violent effort, forced herself to sit calmly a few moments in her rush rocking chair. At intervals a distant call startled both to the door—but it proved a mere echo, as well as the wind over the dry whispering grass, all was calm. In [illegible] like shooting stars, glanced and swayed in the distance. Not until morning did one of the anxious searchers enter the house and then he brought no tidings.

That day fifty men mounted on horseback, and as many on foot, tracked the prairie up and down, back and forth, for many miles. They pushed into the woods that skirted one edge of the farm, leaving not a stone or a log unturned, frightening every timid squirrel and partridge from its nook with the outcry of 'Ellen, little Ellen!'

That day and the next night passed as fruitlessly. On the second, which was the day of our arrival in the vicinity, one hundred and fifty horsemen (you would not have supposed that the thinly dotted prairie could have furnished that number unless they had sprung up like the armed men from the sown dragon's teeth,) followed the traces of the others and, like them, came back at night with the full conviction that they had left not a bush or a reed untried or untrodden.

A message had at first been sent to the grandparents and company with all possible speed; they arrived on the morning of the third day. The poor father of the lost Ellen worn out with fasting, watching and agony, fell down in a swoon in his mother's feet as he arose to receive her. Mary was more calm, and they said she felt the pang less keenly. Women like she had learned to hide the thorn prang in her heart, and to smile, while that heart was bleeding. That the child must have been stolen, seemed now to be the opinion of every one.

Oh! could bear to [illegible] that she is dead! were almost the first words of John Warning on recovering from his fainting fit; but this suspense it will kill me!

Who could have stolen the child? and with what motive! were questions not easily answered. Perhaps some stroller who had caught a sight of her sweet face in the city—and the parents' heart thrilled with new terror at the thought—an old Indian, wandering oft in the neighborhood who had sometimes been provided with a supper on their hearth, and a bed in the barn.

An advertisement was inserted in all the papers of the region describing the lost child and offering a large reward to any one who would bring tidings of her.

Still the search was kept up near home though almost hopelessly. The neighbors could not rid their minds of the impression that some trace, some shred of her dress, some little shoe or shoe track, might yet lead to the discovery of her body—the spirit must long since have taken wing.

One morning—it was nearly a week after the little one had left home—one of these gleaners of a forlorn hope was passing the prairie slowly, thinking of his own beloved children, and of the anguish stricken parents in their loneliness, when his eye caught the sight of a dark object dimly seen through the waving meshes of the prairie sedge. He took one bound forward—and the veil of mystery was rent from little Ellen!

There she lay—the cradled in a hollow between two hillocks of the prairie, so narrow as to be unobserved except in one direction, within one short half mile from home, while her friends in tenderest tones were calling her, tramping all around her, almost upon her, sweet Ellen had lain silent and cold five freezing nights!

The man stood one moment, transfixed with surprise and grief, and then with a deep breathed groan springing to the spot, he lifted up the stone like form of the child and looked into her face. It was like a waxen statue, in its pure beautiful whiteness. The Angel of the Frost who had opened the gate of Death to her spirit had transfigured cheek and brow, when he breathed his chill blast upon them.—She had dreamed a sweet dream before she awoke in Paradise for a smile was frozen on her still face like the first flush of a sunbeam after a shower. Her eyes like half opened violets blighted by the storms of early spring lay weighed down with icy dew. She had wept before she had lain down to sleep to die. She had fallen upon her face probably in very weariness—and the angels had looked down in pity—they had taken in the poor, benighted little wanderer. The lips whence life had ebbed away were parted, as though in a gentle sweet surprise she had heard the call—'Little Ellen! come home to Heaven!'

He untied the little blue hood and parted back the curls heavy with hoar frost and icicles. He tore away the blanket, and left where the heart had throbbed. But it too had frozen at its spring long before! The touch of the round hard arm chilled his inmost nerves but he lifted it, for it clasped something tightly in its palm. He unclenched the stiffened fingers and took away the treasure—purple and white flowers of the prairie, wild asters and daisies frozen like herself, in her dying grasp.

Poor little thing! They told her story well enough. She had always loved flowers but of Paradise that she was [illegible] when she had left her father's side they had beckoned her, waving their bright heads among the tall grasses. She had loitered to pluck them—wandered on—growing weary—laid down to sleep— and waked in Heaven!

Suspense had nerved the parents' hearts to endure certainty. They looked on the shattered casket that had enshrined the treasure, and bowed to the dispensation of their God! But when the thought of that first night—the agonizing realization that she had been almost within hearing of the beating of their hearts, came over them it broke the seal of calmness, and the fountain of grief poured forth its deep bitterness unchecked.

The blighted blossom was bedewed with the tears of many an honest eye, that had seldom opened its sluice of sympathy. Rough men, who had almost forgotten how to weep in the hardness of their life's rugged path, looked into her coffin, and drew their sleeves quickly across their brimming eyelids. Warm hearted Irishwomen touched the golden curls, and ejaculated— The darlint! Rest her soul wid the angels—avourneen!

'Suffer little children to come unto me,' said the Savior, 'and He hath taken her!' whispered one, stooping to give the last kiss to the waxen lips, before they were sealed up to the morning of the Resurrection.

Ellen was buried near her home. The snows rest lightly on her grave now; but in summer time the grass waves whisperingly over her, and the daisies she died to gather dot her little mound. It was fitting that she, the fairest, purest, heavenliest flower of all, should sleep under flowers of Prairie de la Fleur.

Faneuil Hall Closed against Daniel Webster!

The Board of Aldermen in order, as they say to be governed by a precedent in their action have refused to grant the use of Faneuil Hall to the citizens of Boston for the purpose of a public reception of Daniel Webster and the discussion of public questions relating to the general government in which he holds an important station. The degradation of the door of this Hall to the people of Boston was that they might have a place for the discussion of public questions and to this purpose it should be strictly held. It was a fault and a mistake when the Aldermen of Boston undertook to determine what questions should be discussed in that place and to determine that no subject which strongly agitated the public mind should be allowed a hearing in that place. In this ardent impulsive, restless and steam driving age no other questions are likely to get a hearing however good a place may be furnished. The vote to exclude the late convention in opposition to the Fugitive Slave Law was an error, a radical one, and should be forgotten if possible rather than to stand as a precedent for continued refusals of the use of the Hall for the discussion of questions which agitate the public mind. It is a singular point in the history of our country when the grave fathers of Boston undertake to tie the doors of Faneuil Hall with a bit of blue ribbon and to sprinkle rosewater on the steps and to allow none to enter that edifice whose pulse is over sixty or whose mentality rises above the indifference of milk and water.

It is the right and it is the duty of the citizens of Boston one and all of every shade of opinion and of all parties to determine that Faneuil Hall shall be open for free discussion for all legitimate and proper purposes, instead of being closed with the everlasting bamper of excluding all subjects in which the people feel an interest. We believe in free speech and a free press in free thought. These are our reliance for progress and for right for the development of the true strength of the people.

Minot's Ledge Light House.

The destruction of this light house during the late severe storm on Wednesday night with the melancholy loss of the lives of the Assistants, the sad news of which we received by telegraph and published in our yesterday morning paper has occasioned a good deal of interest for the fate of those heroic men who perilled their lives, and felt under obligations to do so for the protection of that numerous class who go down to the sea in ships, and who relied upon the constancy of this light to direct them safely on their course.

This light house was completed and first lighted in January 1850, and from the first many have believed that it must yield to the force of the waves in its exposed situation and that the inmates would be whelmed in a watery grave. It was situated some fifteen miles from Boston and was built upon nine iron piles eight inches diameter at base and four and a half inches at top. These piles were sunk in the ledge five feet deep and secured eighty feet where the first floor of the house was erected the whole light being seventy five feet — The diameter of the base was 25 feet, and of the lanthern 11 feet. The lanthorn had fifteen reflectors of twenty one inches diameter.

This structure has stood through several severe storms in which the inmates felt that their lives were greatly exposed but they looked death calmly in the face believing it to be a duty to maintain the light even at the peril of their lives hoping doubtless that as it had withstood so many upheavings of the ocean that it might continue to do so.

The Boston Journal gives an account of the effects produced upon the house in a previous storm to that which caused its destruction. The storm commenced on Sunday morning about two o clock the wind blowing from the northeast accompanied with heavy snow, and prevent g objects at a distance of a half mile from being seen. During the day the storm increased and on Monday night the oscillation of the light house became so great from the action of the sea that the inmates could with difficulty keep upon their feet and indeed were frequently knocked down. They were finally obliged to retreat to the store room next below their cooking utensils having been broken and it being impossible to remain where they were — Here they remained four days without sleep and compelled to live on dry bread and uncooked meat. The chimneys in the light being constantly thrown out and of course broken and the difficulty of ascending to replace them may be inferred from the fact that the person who was compelled to perform this hazardous duty was several times thrown from the ladder in consequence of the vibration of the building caused by the storm! The spray ascended to the receiving deck a distance of some fifty feet and thoroughly soaked the provisions and everything contained in that division—making it necessary to secure or remove them to the store room above.

And yet these men remained at their post of duty and danger until their devotion has cost them their lives. They knew the dangers of the rocks on which their light was built and they felt how deeply important it was that after having been once lighted that the light should be maintained and they have left families we trust that through government or some other means they may be well provided for.

☞ The fruit trees which have been received by Major J W Chapman at his nursery in this city, the present season are the handsomest and the best that have ever been offered to our citizens and should engage their attention and should be liberally purchased and planted. The pear trees standards and dwarfs are of the great importation of S L Goodale, Esq of the Saco Nurseries and may be relied upon for vigor of growth, trueness of name and for coming into early bearing. There seems to be a desire among some of our people to cultivate choice fruits and we cannot but hope for the good of all concerned that this desire will be come general. We believe other things being equal that a man will be a better citizen and a better husband and father by cultivating fruit trees.

NOW OR NEVER. The only opportunity the citizens of Bangor will have to hear that world renowned professor of mirth Pete Morris will be this evening at the City Hall. His unique and novel description of manners and things in California is the ne plus ultra of comical effusions—it is homely but emphatic—and gives a far better insight to the land of golden dreams than half of the windy and extorted Californian correspondences of paid puffers. He will likewise sing Jenny Lind's Bird Song received with shouts of laughter and enthusiastic applause.

Thayer and Newcomb—stars of the Ethiopean firmament—personators of the humorous African race—black birds of Southern melodies—will sing all the soul-stirring and fashionable Ethiopean chants refrains, choruses and songs of the day. Remember this is the last chance.

ANOTHER CUBA INVASION RUMOR. By the Isabel at Charleston, the New York Herald and Tribune have letters from Havana to the 8th, which speak of rumors afloat there respecting another invasion of Cuba by an armed force from the United States. It is even said that the Spanish Government have positive information that Gen Lopez is about to attempt another landing on the island. It is further reported that a very large sum of money had recently been sent from Cuba to New Orleans to forward this new movement, and that 3000 men had already enlisted in the enterprise and were shortly to sail for Cuba supplied with artillery and all necessary munitions of war. The Governor General is said to be fully apprized of these movements and to have arranged his troops and made his dispositions, so as to be ready to give the marauders a terrible welcome where ever they may attempt to land.

Such is the story from Havana. An arrival at Norfolk the 12th from Matanzas the 3d brings similar rumors from that port, and further, that these rumors were so far believed that the troops were out and preparations were in progress to repel the invaders. Add to these rumors the fact announced by the Atlanta (Ga) Intelligencer and it seems quite possible that another Lopez marauding enterprise is in progress perhaps under the direction of the redoubtable leader of the former expedition, though the particular destination of the party may well admit of a question. The Atlanta (Ga) Intelligencer of the 10th inst says:—

One hundred and fifty enterprising looking young men took the Macon and Western cars from this city this morning bound professedly for California but it is well understood here that their intended destination is the Island of Cuba. Several young men from Atlanta joined the company before it left. It is perhaps worthy of notice in this connection that half a dozen boxes of rifles were yesterday morning shipped on the Atlanta and West Point Railroad from this place.

WEBSTER'S HUNGARIAN LETTER IN EUROPE. This letter, as our readers are aware has excited much attention in Europe. The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune relates the following amusing incident connected with its reception at the Court of Stockholm.

A private letter from an American gentleman now in Sweden mentions a diplomatic anecdote of recent occurrence at that Court, which is some pith. It appears that a newly arrived Austrian minister chanced to meet at a dinner given by one of the members of the Government, with an accomplished and somewhat intensely American Chargé. While enjoying their cigars at ease after the removal of the cloth, the Austrian cavalierly remarked, Well we came near having a brush with you. Indeed! how so inquired our Minister. Oh nothing he replied glancing around at the company with a sarcastic smile, 'only General Taylor sent a Minister to Kossuth rather too soon.'

A quiet laugh around the board greeted the hit. The existence of Mr Webster's reply to Hulseman was not at that moment known to the parties present but our Minister had received it, and was charged with it double shotted. Turning upon the Austrian he poured out upon him (in French) successive rounds of its heavy artillery, occasionally interlarding with grape and canister. He charged home upon him with that wily hit where Webster quotes the opinion of the Austrian Emperor, Joseph II, until the discomfited representative of the Scharwtzenburg Ministry cried peccavi amid the delighted laughter of the much amused company. The General in Chief of the Swedish army, a man of high standing and an intimate of the King and who is a liberal, appeared to enjoy the affair exceedingly. The introduction of the subject at all was rather mal apropos on the part of the new Austrian Minister, and he has probably by this time repented his cavalier rashness.

Severe North-East Gale—Great Destruction of Property, with Loss of Life.

The N E gale, which commenced on Monday night, raged with fearful violence during whole of last night and this morning. The water was driven into the harbor by the strong North Easterly wind, causing the wharves to be again overflowed cellars filled and property destroyed to a great amount.

There was no detention of the New York boats though the gale was quite severe on the Sound. The Fall River passengers were somewhat detained by the washing away of the Old Colony Railroad.

At the North End the waves made a complete breach over Commercial Street striking upon the opposite curb stone with considerable violence. Even up to Dock Square the cellars were flooded, Simpson's hat store at the corner, having at least three feet in it. Long Wharf was completely overflowed to the depth of several feet. The goods in the Public Stores are again badly damaged by this overflow. At the store of Oakes & Perkins a considerable quantity of salt was dissolved.

The damage in the cellars on Long Wharf is also very great, also upon Central and India wharves. A small schooner of about 60 tons burthen sunk off Rowe's wharf. The crew took to their boat and landed in safety. Several vessels in the harbor dragged their anchors, but received no damage.

Mr Atkins 26 India wharf will lose about $3000 by damage to Sugar.

The water was over a foot deep in Sea street, and in one cellar a girl was taken out where the water was up to her armpits.

Many of the thickly domiciled cellars in Ann street underwent a purgation which will probably do them more good than harm. The water coming in through the common sewers, was two feet in some of these subterranean dwellings. The dwellers were not in all instances drowned out—some of the females evincing their attachment to their dark and loathsome abodes, by ensconcing themselves upon such tables and chairs as were above high water mark and refusing all aid and comfort from without. One woman who had thus secured a dry position, amused herself with throwing water upon every one whose kindness prompted him to render her assistance.

The track of the Old Colony road nearly to Neponset was torn up by the overflow of the tide and passengers are brought into the city by omnibusses.

The Worcester railroad track also received some slight damage which however was repaired without any detention of the trains. So great was the force of the wind that the speed of the trains was sensibly impeded.

At Miller & Mason's wharf at the South End, a quantity of lime in a shed was slaked by the tide and the building set on fire. The fire was put out by watchman Gould.

Mrs Rachael Blakely was flooded out of a cellar at No 676 Washington street and was carried to the watch house.

The tide made a complete breach over Charlestown and Chelsea bridges so that passengers were unable to pass over them last night.

At East Boston, many of the cellars were flooded. The new Episcopal Church at the corner of Decatur and Paris streets just covered in, was, by the force of the gale, torn from its foundation.

In Charlestown the wharves were all covered with water and with considerable destruction of property. The cellars were also overflowed. The saddest incident however here was the death of a young man under the following circumstances. During the morning it had been noticed that the steeple of the new Baptist Meeting House on Bunker Hill was swaying to and fro. The carpenters were at first but they did not anticipate any danger of its falling and consequently no care was taken in warning passengers in the street.

Suddenly with a terrible crash the whole of the steeple some eighty feet in length fell across the street, taking with it a part of the roof. It fell between two houses breaking in the L part of one but injuring no one. It was at first thought that no one was underneath but on inspection it was found that a milk cart, which was passing at the time had been buried up in the ruins. The driver of this cart Mr. Theodore Locke of Lexington a young man was taken out almost immediately, alive but died in a few minutes. His horse was also killed and the wagon broken to pieces. The Church was not quite finished though it had been occupied by the congregation.

We understand that the tracks of the Maine road to Malden, and of the Eastern road between East Boston and Lynn are also overflowed with considerable damage.

P. S.—The Highest Tide ever Known in Boston. In consequence of the continuance of the severe north east gale all the forenoon the noon tide was the highest ever known. It was full three feet deep for nearly the entire length of Long Wharf, and keel boats plied from the end of the wharf to the Custom House without difficulty.

Of course all the cellars were again overflowed with great damage to the goods they contained. In Commercial street boats, barrels and sugar boxes were plied up and down for nearly the entire length.

At the Eastern railroad wharf, the water was from two to three feet deep and it was almost impossible to reach the Ferry. The teamsmen upon the East Boston side were obliged to come over this side having been flooded out.

The Chelsea Ferry Boat did not run for the forenoon. All the wharves at North End were flooded and goods of all kinds were floating about in every direction. Rats in abundance were killed. The cellars upon the wharves in this part of the city were filled to the brim.

A schooner was seen to go on shore on Chelsea Beach her masts going by the board. All hands supposed to be lost.

A schooner was seen ashore on the back side of Deer Island this morning.

Two brigs lumber laden, at Rowe's wharf cut away their masts in order to ride out the storm.

A schooner with loss of foremast, at anchor off Foster's wharf sank about noon.

British brig Charlotte drifted afoul of a schooner loaded with wood and carried away the foremast.

Two Lighters sunk on the flats at South Boston full of railroad sleepers from East Boston.

The harbor is full of railroad sleepers wood barrels and other articles, floated from the wharves.

Two chimneys and a portion of the roof of a house, at the corner of Fleet and Ann streets were blown down.

At South Boston many of the streets were deeply flooded. The new bridge was in some places, from one to two feet under water. Sea street was from two to three feet under water. Washington street near Dover street, was two feet, and at Springfield street, nearly three feet under water.

The Episcopal Church at East Boston which we stated above as having been torn from its granite foundation by the gale last night, was blown flat at about 12 o clock to day. This is the second time that this church has been blown down.

A chimney on the Revere House was blown down this morning. It lodged on one of the bay windows of the house, but did no material damage.

The tide did not begin to recede until past 12 o clock, and then very slowly. It is impossible to give an idea of the damage done, at this time.

Thousands of spectators from all quarters of the city lined the wharves to witness a sight never seen before in Boston.

At two o'clock, the gale blew with unabated force, but the tide was fast receding. Fears are entertained of a still higher tide to-night, should the wind continue to blow from the N. East.

From East Cambridge, Malden, Chelsea, and other adjoining towns, we hear of chimneys blown down, trees uprooted property floated off, narrow escapes of pedestrians, &c., but no accidents that need particular notice at this moment.

The telegraph which worked after a fashion last night, is stubbornly silent to-day.—Boston Traveller of Wednesday Evening.

Further Particulars of Disasters by the Storm

Two chimnies of the Unitarian Church on Centre Hill Charlestown were blown over crushing in the roof of a shed attached.

By mail from the office of the Gloucester Telegraph we learn that on Wednesday the storm was more severe than any which has occurred for many years. About a dozen vessels were at anchor in the harbor and three of them were obliged to slip their cables and run on the flats in one of the coves on the western side of the harbor. The sea wall along the cut road was washed down in several places. Much injury has been done to several buildings by the several gale.

At Rockport, the Sandy Bay pier was damaged to the extent of $1500 or more. The underpinning of a new house belonging to Mr William Lane was washed away and one end of the house let down ten or twelve feet. The embankment walls to the land of Mr James Manning and of Dr Harris were badly damaged.

At Newburyport the storm was very severe. A tool shop belonging to the Messrs Woodwell, boat builders was carried away and the coopers shop of Messrs Chas and Wm Hale and a barn belonging to Capt Jesse Hurlow were destroyed. The shop of Mr Jonathan Goodwin on the Plum Island road which is said to have stood for a century uninjured by the tide was swept away. The damage at Newburyport is estimated at $20 000.

At Portland the papers of Wednesday describe the storm as one of the most terrific that has ever visited that city. Considerable damage was done to the wharves but no accidents to the shipping had been heard of. The steamer St Lawrence did not leave for Boston on Tuesday night.

At Bath considerable damage was anticipated, the water on the wharves being two feet deep.

In the vicinity of Providence on Wednesday the gale was very violent. The tall steeple upon the Catholic Church at Pawtucket was blown down.

In Uxbridge a car house was blown down and the fragments detained the cars for some time.

The Springfield papers also speak of the violence of the storm but we hear of no accidents excepting the carrying away of about forty feet of the roof of the Willimantic Railroad bridge across the Connecticut.

From New York we learn that immense quantities of rain had fallen and the wind blew furiously from all quarters. The tide rose so as to overflow many of the piers. No damage to vessels had been heard of but many of the cellars on South and West streets were filled causing great loss of storage goods.

A British brig name unknown is ashore on the north side of Rainsford Island.

Brig Esther Pabens from Cayonne for Boston went ashore during the gale yesterday, near Truro Cape Cod. Both masts cut away. The vessel is driven high on the beach. Crew saved and also the cargo.

In the gale of Wednesday a British brig unknown went ashore on the N E side of Rainsford Island. Two topsail schs on the N part of Spectacle Island one of them has a high deck load supposed hay boarded on at the line. A fore and aft schr about 80 tons low deck is high and dry on Moon Head. Two small schs are ashore on Hedock's Island near Pines Head. A sch is ashore near Weymouth Great Hill. A Dutch vessel with loss of sails is said to have been seen coming into the bay during the gale. Sch Bolivar from Surry after losing both anchors, and having foretopgallant sail blown to pieces went ashore at South Boston.

The names of the schs sunk on South Boston flats during the late storm are as follows Boston Packet, Exchange and Pearl, all lighters. The schs Joy Milo, Bee and Charles dragged their anchors to South Boston and were badly chafed. The brig Illa at Rowe's wharf, had her quarter stove. Sch Wm Lord of and from Harrington lost her foremast.

☞ The Common Council of Boston have by a nearly unanimous vote disapproved of the refusal of the Board of Aldermen to grant the use of Faneuil Hall for the reception of Mr Webster and passed an order inviting Mr Webster in behalf of the Common Council to address the citizens of Boston at such time as shall be convenient to him. An order was also passed, inviting President Fillmore, in behalf of the Common Council, to visit the city of Boston.

EXTRAORDINARY RELIGIOUS EXCITEMENT AT MILWAUKIE. MILWAUKIE, April 11th. Last Sunday evening the Rev Mr Leahey the Monk of Lattrappe, was advertised to lecture at the Methodist Church. A very large crowd assembled about a third of them females. He had not spoken five minutes when there was a rush at the door and a gang of men came in armed with clubs and others tore off the rails from the pews and fell about them with great violence. Several persons were struck on the head and badly injured. The scene was one of the wildest confusion pews were torn down chandeliers smashed and the shouts of the rioters and the screams of the women was fearful. The audience gradually got out of the windows and doors. Some few persons stood around the preacher and protected him. The Mayor commanded peace and promised that Mr Leahey should leave the town in the morning. The crowd did not disperse till a late hour and many persons followed the preacher and his escort to the hotel breaking with brickbats some of the windows. The city is in a state of great excitement. A meeting has been held. The Catholic priests published a notice calling upon their people to keep away from the meeting. The city was in a tremendous state of excitement this afternoon in consequence of a threatened attack upon the Rev Mr Leahey are formed Monk of Lattrappe to prevent the delivery of a lecture, &c by a portion of our Catholic population.

The entire fire department and 100 special constables were sworn in and were well armed to preserve the peace of the city. Several threats are said to have been sent to the proprietors of the City Hotel yesterday to fire the building unless Mr Leahey was discharged from the house — They have not however been carried into effect. The Mayor also received an annoymous communication threatening to tear down the Church if he was allowed to speak there this evening. However from the overwhelming expression of public opinion put forth by law and order meetings yesterday for freedom of speech together with the efficient police arrangements backed by the press &c all violence was effectually checked. The reverend gentleman was allowed and started to deliver his lecture. It is expected that the demonstration made for the preservation of order and the freedom of speech will effectually prevent a repetition of such a scene of riot and bloodshed as took place in the Methodist Church on Sunday in the midst of a gospel sermon by Mr Leahey.

FIRE. The house and barn of Mr Calvin Batchelor situate in Belmont about six miles from Belfast, were totally consumed by fire on Friday night last. When first discovered the fire had made such progress that it was with the greatest difficulty that the inmates were rescued alive. But a few articles of furniture could be saved. Loss about $1200; insured at the Gorham Office for $750. The origin of the fire is unknown.—[Belfast Journal]

Money, Trade and Commerce.

In commercial matters, there is not a very flattering prospect for merchants. The products of foreign countries come invoiced so high that most goods sell at a loss and there is no prospect of speedy improvement. Freights too are very low, in all quarters having fallen off very suddenly, so that they do not afford remunerating rates.

There is a little relief in some descriptions of manufactures from the reduction of stock though there is no improvement in prices, and the last six months work has been in ninth tenths of the mills, among the very worst half year's business the ...

have ever done. Most of them show an actual loss on their balance sheets.

The Shoe business which is an important one to Massachusetts still continues quite flourishing.— Great efforts have been made to introduce this manufacture into the southern cities and into the city of New York where the business has been much extended but whether with any likelihood of permanency and profit we cannot see as well as the dealers who have been in the habit of trading in those sections.

The crops generally throughout the country promise well and the business is only properly adjusted and once fixed there is no reason why prosperity should not prevail in every department.— [Newburyport Herald

AMERICAN HOUSE,
HANOVER STREET,
BOSTON.

THE undersigned having entirely REBUILT and ENLARGED the above extensive establishment, containing in all about three hundred and fifty rooms, would respectfully give notice that it is now ready for the reception and accommodation of the traveling community.
An extended notice of the unsurpassed conveniences of this House is deemed superfluous, as the numerous improvements which have been made cannot be properly given in an advertisement.—Suffice it to say, that no expense has been spared to render any apartment perfect.
The furniture was made expressly to order, regardless of cost, and certain portions of it, especially the Drawing rooms, will be found to be of the most beautiful and tasteful manufacture. The Dining-rooms are capacious, and the hours for meals will be so arranged as to suit the convenience of the early and late.
Every department will be conducted in an unexceptionable manner, and the Proprietor pledges himself that the American House shall be truly the Traveller's Home. LEWIS RICE.

The Wonder of the Age!
BEWARE OF IMPOSITION!
The Only Genuine and Original
IS THE
NORTH AMERICAN ELECTRIC
WASHING FLUID,
For Washing in either Hard or Soft Water.
THIS is the only genuine article to be found in the world, and possesses double the power of anything ever discovered, for washing clothes at a trifling expense, doing away with washboards at once. In fact it seems to be the long sought philosopher's stone, or universal solvent: seeming a magical preparation, its operation being of the most astonishing character. A common sized washing may be done with one gill of the Fluid, in less than two hours. It softens and removes the dirt, leaving the articles of the most brilliant whiteness, it being as harmless in its operations as pure water; and clothing will wear much longer than when rubbed to pieces by the common method of washing.
This Fluid is a powerful agent, to be used in all cases where soap is required, particularly for cleansing milk utensils, cleaning windows and paint, scouring floors, in short, it is beyond a precedent, as its use is universal in the washing world.
P. S.—All Colored Goods are rendered brighter by being washed in this Fluid; all Woolens are less liable to shrink, and thereby rendered much softer than in the old way of washing.
None genuine unless the Labels contain their Signature.
The above article is warranted by the Manufacturers not to contain soda, lime, camphene, burning fluid, or acids of any kind, but to be purely an alkaline preparation of the most powerful character, possessing more than double the washing power of anything ever discovered, being perfectly harmless in vapor, without possessing the caustic properties of the miserable articles which flood the market, and in many instances disgust the people to that degree that they are unwilling to try a good article, when it really is to be found. The proprietors only ask a fair trial of this article, and are perfectly willing to forfeit any amount for a single failure in any instance where it is used.

Spring and Summer Goods, preparatory to the commencement of the Spring business, we find a very considerable amount of stock adapted to the approaching seasons, which is shop-worn, unfashionable, and, for various reasons, unsaleable—it being a thing which cannot be avoided in manufacturing and retailing the immense amount of Boys' Clothing which is annually produced at our establishment. THE

GENUINE BALM OF COLUMBIA.

IF you wish a rich luxuriant head of hair, free from dandruff and scurf, do not fail to procure the genuine Balm of Columbia. In cases of baldness it will more than exceed your expectations. Many who have lost their hair for twenty years, have had it restored to its original perfection by the use of this balm. Age, state or condition appears to be no obstacle whatever; it also causes the fluid to flow with which the delicate hair tubes are filled, by which means thousands (whose hair was gray as the Asiatic eagle) have had their hair restored to its natural color by this invaluable remedy. In all cases of fever it will be found the most pleasant wash that can be used. A few applications only are necessary to keep the hair from falling out. It strengthens the roots, it never fails to impart a rich glossy appearance, and as a perfume for the toilet it is unequalled. It holds three times as much as other miscalled hair restoratives, and is more effectual.

ELEGANT AND INVALUABLE

Articles for the Toilet

Bogle's Hyperion Fluid.

For Restoring, Preserving and Embellishing the HAIR

The following Certificate from Dr. Winslow Lewis one of the most eminent Physicians of Boston will show the estimation in which it is held by the scientific and learned, being one only of many, similar ones.

BOSTON, Feb 15 1847

Mr. Wm. Bogle—Sir: The preparation invented by you for the hair, has been extensively used in my family, and they give it the decided preference over all other compositions of the kind. It invigorates and beautifies the hair and clears the skin of all impurities without producing any ultimate deleterious effects which are so frequently the result of many well known patented compounds.

WINSLOW LEWIS

It is an indispensable article for the Ladies as it keeps the hair in place and curl, and the skin of the head free from dandruff and scurf. Farel, Idras It lays the foundation of a good head of hair.

BOGLE'S AMOLE

A COMPOUND FOR SHAVING.

This delightful article is totally different and are superior to anything yet invented for shaving. This base of it is derived from the Amole, or "soap plant" of California, an article used by the natives in that country for washing, and thus, the use of which all hail as burthened to the skin, is avoided. Its vegetable and detergent properties have the purest and most nourishing effects on the skin;—it soothes and allays irritation, and has a fine, thick, creamy lather, which does not dry on the face. It is a decided luxury to be shaved with this incomparable soap. It is done up in elegant style, calculated either for the [illegible] ready traveller, or the toilet of the most fastidious.

Bogle's Hebeatona,

FOR REFRESHING AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION

Eradicating Tans, Pimples and other eruptions of the skin, and rendering it fair, delicate and blooming. It is equally efficacious in protecting the skin from the hot suns of summer, and freezing blasts of winter, and is the most fragrant and delicious article to be found at the toilet of fashion.

All the above articles have stood the test of the strictest investigation, and are warranted superior to anything yet invented; but, if not found to prove so on trial, the money, in all cases, will be refunded by my Agents. WILLIAM BOGLE Proprietor
